MONEY COMES TRICKLING IN

RESPONSES ALREADY TO THE DEMO-CRATIC COMMITTEE'S APPEAL,

Benator Gorman's Help Welcomed at National Headquarters - Ges. Mahone Comes to Town with His Fusion Plan. Only those acquainted with the interior workings at national Democratic headquar ters can appreciate the satisfaction that has come from the visit of Senator Gorman of Maryland. His practical experience and steady head have imparted confidence Several of the National committeemen said yesterday that it did them good even to look upon him, and to hear from him a word or two of suggestion. The comments of the Republican committeemen on Senator Gorman were equally interesting. They had encountered the Senator in two Presidential battles, and they said they were sorry to see him around.

Senator Gorman started the wheels calling for the popular subscription to the National Demogratic fund. He was with Mr. Whitney and Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan most of the after moon, and an impetus to the fight was given in several directions. The Senator will return to his Baltimore home within a few days, but will come back to New York off and on until

It is scarcely time yet to record substantial results from Chairman Harrity's call for money. But he said last night that returns were already very gratifying, and that while the aggregate amount received was not large. a number of checks came by mail during the day, and a larger number in the last mail at night. The checks varied in amounts from $5 to $100. A few postal notes and some cash were also handed in during the day.

Chairman Dickinson had an especially interesting visitor with money. He was a workingman, and he brought with him $10, his savings. Mr. Dickinson asked him about his circumstances in life, and the visitor admitted that he had a family, but said that he was a Democrat and wanted to contribute to the cause. Mr. Dickinson accepted the $10. He has kept the bill of the workingman, replacing it with one of his own. He says the bill will be his mascot. He will have it framed. The bill has on it the picture of Thomas A Hendricks.

Congressman John C. Tarsney of Missouri. Chairman of the Labor Committee of the House of Representatives, said that the position taken by Judge Gresham makes Indiana doubly sure for the Democrats next month. He believes that Nebraska will be lost to the Republicans, while Kansas is pretty sure to cast her vote for Weaver. In his opinion the attitude of certain Republicans in Newada will give that State to the Democrats. Concerning New York, he says that the Democrats are more united and better organized than ever before.

attitude of certain Republicans in Nevada will give that State to the Democrats. Concerning New York, he says that the Democrats are more united and better organized than ever before.

Mr. Tarsney has recently stumped Erle county. He talked with the Germans there, and he believes that the Germans are leaving the Republican party. The Congressman has been in other counties in the State, and he is of the opinion that the Democrats are doing splendld work. Mr. Tarsney has a record as campaign observer as well as an orator.

Other visitors who stopped at headquarters to give encouraging opinions were Hoke Smith of Atlanta, ex-Congressman John A.
McMann of Dayton, and Congressman Hemphill of South Carolina. Word came to Mr.
Harrity from Indian Territory that the differences existing among the Democrats over the member for the National Committee for that Territory had been named.

Julius Harburger, President of the Stockler Association, called on Chairman Harrity. Mr.
Harburger has been at national headquarters ence or twice before. As president of the Stockler guerrilla organization he believes that he would grace the halls of Congress. The Stockler guerrillas have not yet determined whether they will support Cleveland or Harrison. It will depend somewhat on the terms Harburger makes at national headquarters.

The great man who came to see Chairman Carter of the Republican camp was Gen. Mahone of Virginia. The accond great man was Frank Hatton of the Washington Post, who hew in like a zephyr from the Potomac fiats.

Gen. Mahone does not want the Republicans of Virginia to nominate candidates for Congress. He believes that these honors should go to the Feople's party, the People's party in return to support Harrison.

When Frank Hatton met ex-Senator Platt he said: "Helio, Senator, I want to tell you had climbed on to the live wagon, and he wanted to know what you were to get. Trebiled. 'A coid."

Senator l'att glied Hatton in return. Gov.
McKinley and his brother Abner were also wanted to know what you were to get. I replied. 'A coid.'

Senator Platt gibed Hatton in return. Gov.
McKinley and his brother Abner were also visitors at headquarters. The Governor is to speak in Connecticut and New Jersey, and the remainder of the month he will be in Illinois, Missouri, and Kansas. Gen. Russell A. Alger is to speak in Kansas every night noxt week.

At the meeting of the Democratic State Committee on Wednesday morning, at the Hoffman House, an elector at large will be named in place of Frastus Corning, and electors will be named to fill the vacancies in the Third, Eighth, Fifteenth, Twenty-sixth, Twentyninth, and Thirty-second Congress districts.
The places were held by officers of national banks who have resigned.

THE CAMPAIGN IN BROOKLYN.

Everything Lovely at the Democratic Primaries-Bepew to Speak To-night.

The Democrats held their primary elections westerday in all the wards and towns in Kings county, and delegates were chosen to the various nominating conventions which are to take place next week. None of the anticipated contests occurred, and perfect harmony prevalled. It is expected that claimants for disputed nominations will adjust their differences in caucus, and that the same unity which prevailed at the primaries will also characterize the conventions, so that the danger from independent nominations for Congress, Assembly, or any of the local offices may be avoided Under such conditions it is thought that the Democrats may elect their candidates for Congress in each of the five districts and fifteen of the eighteen Assemblymen. The Second. Third. Fourth, and Sixth districts are naturally Democratic, and none of them is regarded as in danger this year, while the normal Republican majority of 1,000 or so in the Fifth district makes it a fair fighting ground for the Democracy. Henry Claus, the popular young brewer, will probably be the Democratic candidate, and his friends are confident that he could wine out the Republican majority. Congressman Clancy and Congressman Coombs are likely to be nominated in the Second and Third districts, respectively, and Congressman Magner will also probably he able to overcome the opposition to his remomination in the Sixth district.

The resignation of John Graham as a Presidential elector in consequence of his connection with a national bank as a director, opens up his way for a nomination for Congress in either the Fourth or Fifth district. S. Stewart Whitehouse, who has been chosen to fill the vacancy in the Board of Electors, is a leading young Domocrat in the Twenty-first ward. Greek care will be taken in the choice of Assembly candidates, so as to prevent any break in the Democratic lines.

The absence of Mr. Henry A. Meyer, last year's defeated liepublican candidate for Mayor, from the Democratic mass meeting at the Criterion Theatre on Thursday night, has been satisfactorily explained. Mr. Meyer is not, as has been surmised, faitering in his new-born devotion to Democracy, and it was his purpose to attend the meeting and make an address. He returned, however, from a week's fishing excursion on Thursday with his handsome face so terribly sunburned that he could not summon up courage to exhibit himself on the Criterion Theatre stage when he was informed that a large number of ladies were included in the audience. Just as soon as the effects of the sun have disappeared and his features resums their hormal appearance he will tell his fellow citizens why he has become a convert to Democracy and is fighting the Force bill.

The political event in Brooklyn to-night will be the appearance of Chauncey Mr. Depew at the Clermont Avenue Rink. There will be no other speaker to dispute Mr. Depew at the Clermont Avenue Rink. There will be no other speaker to dispute Mr. Depew at the Clermont Avenue Rink. There will be no other speaker to dispute Mr. Depew at the Clermont A popular young brewer, will probably be the Democratic candidate, and his friends are

THEY WANT SENATOR HILL.

Democratic Clubs Invite Him to California and Of r Him a Special Train. San Francisco, Oct. 7 .- The ten Democratic societies of California decided last night to send a representative to New York with an invitation to Senator Hill to come to California and stump the State. They have raised $5,000, which will be used to defray Senator Hill's expenses. They will put a special train at his service and he will own the State while he is here. The societies hope he may accept the efer, as there is a keep desire to see him here.

THE COLORED BROTHER IS RICKING.

Wants the G. O. P. to Shout for the Fores Colored Republicans are -t a loss to know what their position is in this campaign, and have appointed a committee to find out. They feel that they have been completely side-tracked by the Republican managers. They don't like it.

For ten days past colored men all over the county have been talking about the situation. and last Monday a delegation of ten met in consultation in this city. The Rev. Dr. W. B. Derrick of New York, the Rev. Dr. Lyons, and three others were appointed a committee to call on Chairman Carter at Re-publican national headquarters, They made the call the same day, and were received behind locked doors. The colored men looked dissatisfied when they came out. Very little could be learned of what took place at the conference. It is known that came out. Very little could be learned of what took place at the conference. It is known that the colored men protested that the Republican party had completely ignored the negro this year. They demanded that some prominent colored man be stationed in the committee headquarters to look after the interests of the race. They suggested either Postmaster James Hill of Vicksburg, Collector of Customs N. Wright Cuney of Galveston, or Perry H. Carsen of Washington. Mr. Carter refused this request, and asked them to submit details of what else they demanded. This they were not prepared to do on the spot.

Testerday afternoon there was another conference at 470 Sixth avenue. Debate was sometimes acrimonious. Some delegates were determined that sharp measures should be taken to bring the National Committee to terms. A new committee of five was appointed, with instructions to pay Mr. Carter another visit on Tuesday next. A colored man prominent in this movement said last night:

"Colored Republicans have felt that after THE Sun raised the cry 'No Force bill, no negro domination,' and after THE Sun's party accepted this as the cardinal issue of the campaign, the Republican party must state its position upon this question positively. They watched developments. They saw the Democratic South fall into line upon the issue, and then the Democratic North. Still they did nothing. They watied, expecting that Mr. Cleveland would strike a different keynote for the campaign. But Mr. Cleveland spoke, and put himself fairly and squarely upon THE Sun's issue.

"The Republican party evidently was afraid."

the campaign. But Mr. Cleveland spoke and put himself fairly and squarely upon The Sun's issue.

"The Hepublican party evidently was afraid of this Force bill issue and dropped it. Harrison's letter was a square backdown on the Force bill question. This was recognized by every intelligent colored man in the country. The President's recommendation that a non-partisan committee be appointed by Congress to investigate, instead of a square-tood recommendation in line with his recommendations whereof the Lodge bill was the embodiment, was a great surprise and disappointment. The Hepublican Campaign Committee immediately shaped its course in accordance with the President's recommendation. In the conduct of the campaign all references to the Force bill have been ignored, and all speakers who would have made that an issue have been side-tracked. Now, colored men don't like this. They are not importers; neither are they manufacturers nor wage earners in manufactories. The all-important issue with them is the Force bill. Side-tracks the colored brother as a force in any capacity whatever. This has touched him in a tender place. He is going to insist that the National Committee do something for him. He will insist upon the Force bill as an issue. He has been treated very shabbily at national headquarters.

MILHOLLAND MEN ENROLL.

Reaps of Them in Col. Bilso's District-Sol

Yesterday was the first of two days of the Republican enrollment of new Republicans. The lots were quite heavy in some of the new districts, and the enrollment was interesting in the Eleventh district, where the followers of John E. Milholland still hope to overthrow Col. George Bliss in the district leadership. Milholland, who had not been allowed to join the district organization before, was finally allowed to enroll yester-day. Some of his friends who managed to before, was finally allowed to enroll yesterday. Some of his friends who managed to get their names on the books were James ti. McMurray and Dr. L. L. Soaman, both of whom were challenged, however. McMurray was expelled last winter for disloyalty to Wm. N. Hoag, the candidate for Assembly, but he swore to be a good and true Republican, and was taken in. Dr. Seaman was asked if he was a consistent Republican, whereupon he flared up and gave the enrolling officers a piece of his mind. Charles W. Anderson said that he turned "darkest Africa" loose, and that two to one of the 400 new men enrolled were Milholland men.

Another distinguished Republican who was enrolled in this district was that friend o' Gibbs, Mr. Sol Berliner. Mr. Berliner has been a kicker against Bliss, but yesterday appeared as one of his warmest advocates.

You see, it was this way," said he in explanation of his change of front. "Gibbs said to me, 'Sol, if you're goin' to be a Republican he a straight-out Republican; he a reg'lar. It ain't no use bein's kicker. What Gibbs says goes, and I'm a reg'lar now."

DEMOCRATIC DAY PROGRAMME. The New Jersey Democratic Clubs Will

The Executive Committee of the Democratic Clubs of New Jersey held a meeting yesterday afternoon in Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City. At the last meeting of the Committee it was decided to have a Democratic day, when meetings would be held simultaneously in every town, township, and city in the State, but no date was fixed at that time. It was decided at that time that wherever speakers could not be secured for a meeting, Senator David B. Hill's great Brooklyn speech would be read. The committee yesterday chose Oct. 26 for "Democratic Day" and prepared a programme. Of course there will not be enough speakers to go around, and wherever there is a scarcity Senator Hill's speech will be read. At the other places, in addition to the speaking, Cleveland's and Werts's letters of acceptance and the letters written by Wayne MacVesigh and Carl Schurz will be read. Reports of a most favorable character were received from the clubs in every part of the State. town, township, and city in the State, but no

DAVENPORT'S ELECTION OFFICERS. A Big Lot of Republicans Sworn in Last

United States Commissioner Shields swore In as Supervisors of Election in the Post Office building last night about one thousand appointees of John L Davenport, who had been pointees of John I. Davenport, who had been named to him by the district Republican leaders. More marshals, appointed by Marshal Jacobus, were also sworn in, in some instances as many as ten for an election district, and badges were given them. It was said that they would also be supplied with clubs by the district chiefs. The Democratic lists of Supervisors have been handed in to Davenport and they will be sworn next week.

JESSE SELIGMAN CAN HAVE IT. But It Is Belleved That He Doesn't Want

At the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday the loal Republican leaders said that there is no doubt that Jesse Seligman can have the nomination of the party for Mayor if he wants it, and there seemed to be a general desire to force it upon him. At Mr. Seligman's Broad street office the opinion was also held that he could be the liepublican nominee if he desired to, but it was intimated that he had no desire for that honor.

Twenty-third Ward Brooklyn Republicans to Celebrate To-night.

Republicans of the Twenty-third ward of Brooklyn will endeavor to forget their factional differences for to-night and join in a grand parade, in which it is expected that 5,000 men will participate. Houses along the line of march will be decorated, and about fifty ladies, each armed with a silk flag, will be at the residence of James H. Skinner, President of the Invincible Club. 901 Greene avenue, to salute the procession as it passes. After the parade there will be a reception to the Pioneer Club at the rooms of the Invincible Club, 343 Gates avenue.

Tammany to Have a Stereopticon. Mr. Richard Croker has recognized the stereopticon as a valuable aid to political education, and has made a contract for one to education, and has made a contract for one to be devoted to telling campaign truths in front of Tammany Hall during the campaign. A hig white screen was spread on the front of the Fourteenth street wigwam yesterday, and the silent campaign orator will begin his work in a few evenings, and keep it up until Elec-tion Day.

The Clevelands May Leave Gray Gables To-day.

Buzzand's Bay, Oct. 7.-It is said to-night that Mr. Cleveland and family will leave here for New York to-morrow, if the weather is favor-able, on F. C. Benedict's steam yacht Oneida. Mr. Cleveland entertained Mr. Sinciair of New York to-day at Gray Gables.

GOV. M'KINLEY IN NEWARK JERSEYMEN GIVE HIM AN ENTHUSI ASTIC RECEPTION.

He Bevotes His Entire Attention to the Tariff and Talke About the Good Things the McKinley Bill Man Done for America. NEWARK, Oct. 7.-Gov. McKinley addressed between nine and ten thousand men and wo-men in the big Saengerfest hall at Caledonian Park to-night. He arrived about 4 o'clock and dined with Franklin Murchy. Chairman of the Republican State Committee, at 6 o'clock. Among the guests were ex-Congressman Halsey, one of the friends of the Plumed Knight who stood by him at Minneapolis; ex-Congressman Herman Lehlbach, John Kean, Jr. candidate for Governor; R. Wayne Parker. candidate for Congress, and G. A. Hobart, Vice-Chairman of the National Committee. A parade of several hundred uniformed clubs escorted the party to the meeting. The hall was beautifully decorated, the only absent standard being that which usually carries the he harp and shamrock. Before the speech of the evening there was music and five-minute speeches by Carl Lentz, Chairman of the County Committee, Franklin Murphy, R. Wayne Parker, and John Kean, Jr. Then Gov. McKipley stopped forward and stood motionless for five minutes while the the audience cheered. He said among othes "Political parties are but the agents of the things:

"Political parties are but the agents of the people, registering their wishes in the forms of American laws. No man is higher or better than his party, certainly if he is a Republican.

"If elected by a party he must carry out the platform on which he has accepted the nomination. We Republicans have no desire to shirk our platform. We do not propose to let the Democratic leaders escape from theirs.

"The leaders of that party have been financially unsound for thirty years. They were so on the greenback currency, a national bank currency, national bonds, upon unlimited coinage of the 80-cent dollar, and the abolition of the 10 per cent tax on State banks. They were beaten on every position they took.

"The Democratic party not only tries to dehase the currency, but to degrade the labor of the country. That party is in favor of a tariff for revenue enly. That's free trade. That'r what England has—a tariff which has no mission but to put revenue in the public treasury, heedless of the wages of labor, without reference to the industries or wages of the country. "A protective tariff has nover failed, in peace or in war. Our revenue tariff has never failed in peace or in war. Our revenue tariff has never failed to provide the needful revenues. It furnishes the finest opportunity for the highest aspiration of mankind. It serves the treasury, but is mindful of the wages and employment of the American people. They say a protective tariff is unconstitutional. That's the last resort, and usually precedes acquiescence and surrender.

"The authors of that platform have scarcely and the history of their country. The second surrender.

The authors of that platform have scarcely resort, and usually precedes acquisseenes and surrender.

"The authors of that platform have scarcely read the history of their country. The second law that passed the first Congress was a protective tariff. Is Grover Cleveland a better constitutional lawyer than Thomas Jefferson? Is Adlai Stavenson a better interpreter than Madison? Is Henry Watterson a better expounder than Henry Clay of his old Kentucky home? Are they, all combined, better than the Supreme Court of the United States? It has sanctioned the Tariff law of 1850.

"If that law is not a protective one, its the result of accident and not design. There is no interest that is not protected by the law of 1850. Has it kept us out of a foreign market? Our foreign trade was $1.850.000,000 last year. We don't want any public soup houses now; every man now eats his own soup at his own table. I'll teil you when we can have free trade. Whenever the nations of the world pay the same wages to their labor that we do ours then we can afford to abolish the tariff.

They said the new law would decrease wages and increase prices. When they found the opposite sustained by the report of the Commissioners of Missachusetts, Indiana, and New York, the Democratic leaders went into the courts. They may shut Peck up, but they can't shut up our factories. What a spectacle for stating facts. The leaders of the Democratic party had predicted failure in every way, but, if facts didn't overtake prediction, the Democratic party would be the greatest in the world."

SAYS WE HAVE A SURPLUS.

Secretary Foster Talks About the Finances of the Country to Maryland Republicans, FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 7 .- Secretary of the Treasury Foster and the Hon. Ben Butterworth of Ohlo spoke here to-night to a large meeting of Republicans. Mr. Foster spoke at length on the charge that the Treasury is bankrupt. The Secretary said:

"The press credits Mr. Stevenson with say-ing that there was turned over to the Harrison Administration $100,000,000, and that, not-withstanding this fact, the present Adminisration was not able, for the first time in the history of the country, to pay its debt when it per cent. bonds. By implication, at least, he wants to know what this Administration has done with the $100,000,000 surplus which he alleges was handed over to us. "If he were not ignorant upon the subject s would know that this Administr redeemed and paid off $259,003,050 of its debt at a cost of more than $200,000,000, and with a saving in interest, by the time the right to pay matures, of $55,352,493.51 What about the inability of the Government to pay about $50,000,000 of 415 per cent, bonds, the right to pay them maturing Sept. 1, 1801, and which Mr. Stavenson says we couldn't pay? If he Mr. Stevenson says we couldn't pay? If ne will look at any prominent newspaper of June 2 or 3, 1801, he will find the notice of the Secretury of the Treasury to the holders of these bonds that the bonds, the whole of them, will be maid on the 2d of September. Can Mr. Stevenson truthfully say, in the face of an official notices that the Government would pay these bonds, that the Treasury was bankrupt and could not pay them? notices that the Government would pay these bonds, that the Treasury was bankrupt and could not pay them?

"What else was there in this notice? It informed the holders of these bonds that the Government would consider propositions for their continuance at a lower rate of interest, reserving to the Government the right to pay at its pleasure. The holders of more than $25,000,000 of these bonds requested that they he continued at 2 per cent, and this Administration enjoys the enviable position of having placed a Government loan at a lower rate of interest and in a more advantageous position than any Government on earth, and illustrated by a practical test the credit of the United States Government under the Presidency of Harrison enjoys the highest and best credit it ever before enjoyed. The remaining $25,000,000 have been paid.

"For more than eighteen months the cry of a bankrupt Treasury has been kent going, but at all times the Treasury has promptly met every obligation of the Government. The revenues are increasing at the rate of three millions per month over last year. Of course there is an increase of expenditures, owing principally to payments for pensions, but the first three months of the year show a net gain in cash of $5,203,541.31.

THE SPLIT IN KANSAS.

A Convention of Straight-out Democrats Protest Against Pusion.

TOPERA. Oct. 7.-The Convention of Straightout Democrats, held here to-day to protest against the action of the regular Democratic Convention of July 6 in endorsing the People's party State ticket, adjourned this afternoon after having adopted resolutions declaring for Grover Cleveland and censuring the Fusionists. There were three hundred delegates in the Convention, and steps were taken for the organization of a new Democratic party, with the men who called this Convention as leaders the men who called this Convention as leaders in the movement. Col. A. A. Harris of Fort Scott, who proposed the new Democratic organization, was Chairman of the Convention. After adopting a platform which pronounced the Fusion deal a crime and denounced the principles of the Poople's party the Convention listened to the report of the committee appointed to craft an address to the voters of the State. This report declared that Democrats could not be bound by the action of July 6, and urged them to voto as became citizens, without party consideration. A resolution introduced by C. K. Holliday, Jr., of Topeka, editor of the Kansas Democrat, providing for the nomination of a State ticket, was voted down. After the organization of the new party the Convention adjourned.

A MYSTERIOUS ILLUMINATION.

The Finshing Light Above East River on Overest Nights, and Its Cause.

On an overcast night last week a number of Republican politicians from up the State were standing at the Broadway entrance to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, when a great flash of light appeared in the eastern sky. It spread rapidly and lit up the neighboring housetops and the trees in Madison square. For a few moments the light was so intense that some of the men shaded their eyes with their hands. Then it lowly died out and disappeared altogether, to flash upagain in a few moments as brightly as ever. This phenomenon was repeated at about intervals for an hour or more.

"By Jove!" said one of the countrymen. "there must be a big fire over there. I wonder what it is."

"Perhaps it's a Harrison and Reid bonfire." suggested another.
"What, on the east side? I guess not." returned the first, "the Republicans are not so numerous over there, I guess, as to get up any such big hoorays." The politicians continued to talk about the illuminated sky for a considerable time, and forgot their previous discussion of campaign secrets. Other politicians drifted toward the entrance, and suggested various causes for the mysterious illumination. People passing up and down Broadway noticed it, too, and gathered in little groups to watch it. As the minutes wore on the finshes came more irregularly. Sometimes they lasted for a considerable time, and then again they would disappear almost in an instant. The curious watchers on the street changed every few minutes. Very few stopped to observe it for longer than five minutes, but as fast as one passed on another took his place. The group at the entrance to the hotel was most patient. Every member of it was sure that it was the result of some great conflagration, and some of the most adventurous ones suggested taking a cab and investigating the matter.

"What's the use," said others. "we'll read all about it in the morning papers."

Finally Detective McPhillips wandered out to the doorway to see what the crowd was looking at.

"Where's the fire Mac?" asked a politician illuminated sky for a considerable time, and Finally Detective McPhillips wandered out to the doorway to see what the crowd was looking at.

"Whore's the fire, Mac?" asked a politician who knew him.

"What fire?"

"Over there," pointing to the east.

McPhillips looked at the crowd with a grin.

"Have you fellows been gawking at that all night?" he asked.

"Why, what is it?" asked several.

"Nothing but the reflection from a foundry over en the East River, near Tenth street.

The crowd walked to the barroom disgusted. If they had only known it, however, the country politicians would not have felt so cheap. The same light has deceived thousands of New Yorkers, and on every cloudy or forgy night its victims include the majority of persons abroad between Tenth and Thirtieth streets, west of First avenue. It would hardly seem possible that the reflection from the fires of a single foundry would spread so far and be so bright, but it certainly does look from Madison square as though haif the east side was burning. It is no unusual thing to see hundreds of persons standing on upper Broadway staring at it. Some nights it is much more intense than on others. It always looks uncanny, and reminds one of the story that on dark nights a great red glare can be seen over the city far out at sea, the same baling a concentrated reflection of the wickedness of some of its inhabitants.

IF HE SHOULD NOT FOTE FOR WEAVER, Mr. Powderly Thinks a Million Men Would March to Scranton to Hang Him.

CINCINNATI. Oct. 7 .- The Post to-day prints letter from Terence V. Powderly, Grand Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, in which Mr. Powderly says:

"I will venture the assertion that one milllon workmen in the United States would make ready to march to Scranton to hang me for being a traitor if I did not vote for Weaver. They would be right. I would be a traitor, and I really believe I should be hanged for not voting for Weaver if my vote would decide the contest. I quite agree with the one million who would hang me for treason, and they should not refuse to agree with me when I say that each workingman who will not vote for him (Weaver) should be regarded in the same light."

Secretary Foster in Politics Until After

Election. WARRINGTON, Oct. 7 .- When Secretary Foster left the Treasury Department at 4 P. M. to-day for Frederick. Md., he practically left the de-partment until after the Presidential election. He will return to Washington to-morrow morn-He will return to Washington to-morrow morning, and in the evening will go to New York. He will deliver a political speech in Gouverneur, N.Y., in the northern part of the State, on Oct. 11, returning to New York city on Oct. 12. He will then return to Washington, leaving almost immediately to fill political engagements in Ohio. Illinois, Missouri, and Kansas. Other officials now on the stump or about to go are Immigration Commissioner Owen, Soleitor Hepburn, First Comptroller Matthew, Railroad Commissioner Taylor, Fourth Auditor Lynch, and Recorder Bruce.

Trying to Have the Cleveland Electors Withdrawn.

HELENA. Mont., Oct. 7.- A movement was set on foot a few days ago to have the Cleaveland electors withdrawn by the Democrats and the Weaver electors substituted. The fact that Weaver electors substituted. The fact that National Committeeman Davidson. Chairman Kenyon of the State Committee, and William Clark of Butte are in New York consulting with the National Committee gives color to the report that the deal is about completed.

The rank and file of the Democratic party are protesting loudly against the proposed action. They say that a poll of the State shows that ther will have a majority of at least 3,000 in a total vote of 40,000.

Buston Not Chaning Ralabows.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 7 .- Nearly every Federal fficeholder of Mississippi was in Jackson today to meet ex-Treasurer Huston of Indiana and J. G. Long of Florida, both members of the National Republican Committee. Mr. Husto national Republican Committee. Mr. Hus-ton declined to tell why he came, but it is gen-errally known that he stopped to collect con-tributions to the campaign fund. He is just back from Texas, and says Clark, the boiting Democrat, will be elected Governor. He says Judge Gresham's desertion is a serious loss to Mr. Harrison, as the Judge has a jarge follow-ing, especially among young men. He doesn't count any Southern State for Harrison.

Quay Getting Over His Insomnia.

PRILADELPHIA, Oct. 7 .- Senator Quay, who is n Philadelphia under the treatment of a physician. spent most of to-day calling on friends. sician. spent most of to-day calling on friends.

He spent three-quartors of an hour with Collector Cooper, and says politics was not mentioned. Mr. Quay said that he was greatly improved in health. Insomnia has not been troubling him for nearly a week. His friends say that if his health continues to improve he will leave for New York next week to take an active part in the work of the National Campaign Committee.

Talking of Fusion in Fouth Dakota. HUBON, S. D., Oct. 7.-The Democratic and Populite Committees are holding a meeting ere with a view of effecting fusion. The People's Party Committee has asked that the Democrats withdraw all their Presidential cleetors, in return for which they agree to endorse half the Democratic State ticket. The Democrats think the People's party is asking too much, and will take until to-morrow to decide the question. The last day for the filing of nominations is Oct. 18.

Speaker Crisp Pleased with the Growin

Result. AMERICUS, Ga., Oct. 7 .- Speaker Crisp. who came here to help Sumter roll the biggest majority for Democracy ever known since the county was organized, is gratified with the result of Tuesday's election, and will leave to-morrow for the Northwest on a stumping tour.

Bits of Campaign Talk.

The members of the John A. Logan Club say that at least two of the "Republican" election inspectors in the Third district are Democrats. They threaten injunction preceedings.

Dave Martin's and Johanny Davenport's agents were on the wrong scent on Thursday. Pretending to be looking after Democratic colonization of voters, they made a descent on 185 Ludiow street to find that Sam Engel owns the place. Gustav A. Schurmann, the Republican leader in the Third Assembly district, has extended the clive branch to the followers of Brodsty and Engel in the John A. Logan Club, giving them the naming of one election marshal in every election district. The offer has been accented. Billy Edwards, at the Hoffman House, has $1,000 to bet against $500 that Cleveland will carry New York State. He still holds $5,000 of Harrison money to covered on the graeral result. He has had this money tarce week.

ONE OF NEW JERSET'S LATEST. The New House Just Built for the West-field Athletic Club.

WESTFIELD, Oct. 7.-Now that the Westfield Athletic Club house is completed. New Jersey has added another to its already long list of handsome club houses. The opening of the Westfield house is to take place next Tuesday night with a fair, which will be continued throughout the week.

The Westfield Club, although not yet four years old, has attained considerable prominence in Union county. The membership list includes many men of wide experience in ath-letic affairs. Charles N. Codding, President of the club and manager of the baseball de-partment, is also President of the Central New Jersey Baseball League. He is a graduate of Yale of the class of '76, and was manager of all the college bleycle tournaments. He is an authority on baseball and football, a good bowler and clever billiard player. The other officers of the club are George W. Peek. Vice-President: John B. Green, Recording Secretary: Eugene McGarrah, Corresponding Secretary: Eugene McGarrah, Creasurer.

The new club house was erected by the Westfield Athletic Company, the officers of which are as follows: H. M. Jackson. President: George W. I'cek. Secretary: E. J. Whitehead, Treasurer. H. M. Jackson was formerly President of the Harlem Rowing Association. Albert A. Drake, a New York banker, is one of the most anthusiastic and liberal club members. Frank T. Lent, who drew the plans of the new house, is a member of the club. He was prominent in athletic matters at Rutgers College in 1874 and 1878, and had a great deal to do with rowing events. He was one of the committee who had charge of the raising of funds for the erection of a floating beat house on the Knritan River. In 1870 he had charge of the Rutgers four-oared boat crew, and under his direction the men won three races. good bowler and clever billiard player. The

The new club house stands on Elm street, near Broad street, the principal business thoroughfare of the town. The house embraces a combination of architectural styles, in which the colonial predominates. It is of stene and wood, two and a half stories high. On one side of the second story a balcony roof for the veranda gives a pleasing effect. There are other pretty balconics even with the second story. The house has a picturescue exterior, and will be very homelike and cheerful when all the furniture and fittings are in place. The building is 100 feet long and 30 feet wide. In the basement are the bowling allevs and bleycle room, where members can store their machines.

From Elm street the house sets back about fifty feet, thus leaving space for a driveway. The main entrance faces on Elm street, and on the first floor is the broad entrance hall. On both sides of the hall the social rooms are grouped, consisting of a large parlor, women's parlor, smoking, lounging, reading, dressing, and cloak rooms. The billiard room is also on this floor. It will be fitted with six tables. Card and committee rooms are also on this floor. The walls are covered with yellow pine and hard wood fittings.

On the second floor is a completely equipped theatre which will seat 500 persons. It is also arranged that the place can be used for a gymnasium and balls and dancing parties. The opera "Patience" is now being rehearsed by fifty society people. The opera will be produced on Oct. 20. The club will also present a series of concerts and receptions during the senson. DIED AT HIS FEAST.

The Penalty Paid by a Bear who Had Stolon a Beebive.

SCRANTON, Oct. 5. - Between 10 and 11 o'clock on Thursday night Amos L. Carpenter of Pole Ridge was awakened by the barking of his dog that was chained in the wood shed. The moon was shining brightly, and on looking out of the window to see if he could find out what had disturbed the dog Mr. Carpenter saw a bear nosing around an old-fashioned straw beehive that stood in the centre of a row of fourteen wooden hives behind the wood house. It was the only straw hive on the place, and while Carpenter was pulling on his trousers and boots the bear put his arms around the hive, hugged it tightly, and marched toward the dooryard gate on his hind feet. Just as Carpenter had got down stairs the bear pushed his back against the gate, wheeled into the road, and started for a brush lot on the opposite side of the road with the hive in his arms. Carpenter had lent his gun to a neighbor that day, and he unchained the dog, grabbed a Carpenter had lent his gun to a neighbor that day, and he unchained the dog, grabbed a pickare, and went after the bear. The dog chased the bear into the brush, and before Carpenter could catch up the bear put down the hive, pitched at the dog, cuffed him around, and broke his back. Then the hear picked up the hive, and Carpenter rushed at him and struck at his head with the pickare. He missed, and the bear dropped the hive, turned like a flash just as Carpenter was swinging the axe again, struck it with his right paw, and sent it flying into the brush. Then the hear seized the hive again and started for Tamerack Swamp, and Carpenter lost track of him while he was searching for the pickare. The bear had crippled the dog so hadly that Carpenter had to kill it.

At daybreak on Thursday morning Carpenter found the hear lying dead near the edge of the swamp. He had torn open the hive and eaten hearly all the honey, and his claws still clutched the ruined hive. His body was covered with bees when Carpenter found him. The angry insects had stung him to death while he was gobbling down their store of honey. In the evening Carpenter skinned the honey thief and dragged his carcass into the swamp.

WHIMS OF THE STAGE FOLK.

The Jeniousy of Actors and Actresses in the Matter of First Place. The other night a manager of one of the uptown theatres was talking about the whims of

"lou would be surprised," he said, "to know what a lot of trouble a manager sometimes gets into because of the order in which he puts the names of the members of his company on the programmes and show bills. The leading man and leading lady are sure to get into a row if he prints the name of one in larger or more showy type than the other. The most valuable member of the company must always have his or her name at the head of the salary list. Sometimes, when there are two members of equal value, it requires a prodigious lot of diplomacy on the part of the manager to prevent a row because both can't head the list. In the profession the one at the head of the list is always considered far above the others, even though the difference in value between first and second may be very slight. Take Harrigan's company, for instance. Mart Hanley pays Johnny Wild Si a week more than he does Mrs. Yeamans, because Johnny insists upon heading the list. Now, if anybody can decide which of these two is the more valuable to the company he can do more than I can, and I 've known the company since it was organized. I shoulin't wonder if Mart, who is mighty smooth, had to work very carefully before he got Mrs. Yeamans to consent to the present arrangement. I have known whole companies to be disrupted for larger or more showy type than the other. sent to the present arrangement. I have known whole companies to be disrupted for less cause."

A ringing note in the ears, headuche, deafness, eyes weak; obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenecious, bloody and putrid; offen-

That's Catarrh.

A medicine that by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties has cured the most hopeless cases. One that will cure you, no matter how lad your case or of how long standing. A medicine that doesn't simply palliate for a time, but produces perfect and permanent cures.

That's Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

A cash payment of $500, not by you, as you might expect, but to you, if you can't be cured. It's an offer that's made in good faith, to prove their medicine, by responsible men, the proprieters of Dr. Sage's Ready.

That's the kind of medicine to tree.

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. "When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger of, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the Worst Case of Scrofula they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars: Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent.? Yes, many thousand. For the past four years I have had no sores. I

CAMPAIGN LITERATURE SEIZED.

It Advocated the Course of the Green Goods Party, One of Whose Workers is In Jail, The peculiar actions of two men who hired a room at 107 Thompson street attracted the attention of the police of the Prince street station on Thursday. One of these men was a negro and the others white asked the negro what he was doing.

"Sending out campaign literature," he re-plied.
"Where's the other man?" asked the ofplied.

"Where's the other man?" asked the officers.

"He's outdoing active political work."

The detectives looked at some of the "campaign literature," and found nothing in it relating to the Force bill and tariff reform, but considerable about the money issue. In fact, the circulars were addressed mostly to people in small country towns, and set forth how those people could get rich by purchasing $7,000 in bills for $500. These transactions were, of course, to be confidential.

The colored man was arrested. He said that he didn't know that the circulars were green goods circulars. The other man, whose name is Miller, had told him that they were political documents, and he had supposed that they were. At Jefferson Market Court yesterday he gave his name as William Osborna Loudon. He admitted that he had malled 2,000 of the circulars. About the same number already addressed were found in the rooms. Loudon was held in $1,000 hall for trial. The police are looking for Miller.

OBITUARY. Thomas Woolner, the sculptor, is dead in England. He was dangerously ill some ten days ago, but this week had been supposed to be recovering. Yesterday he was seized suddenly with spasms which ended quickly in death. He was born in 1826, and at the age of 13 began studying his art in the studio of William Behnes. His "Eleanor Sucking the Poison from Prince Edward's Wound." was exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1843, and nis Death of Boadice," shown during the same period, in Westminster Hall, was regarded as a masterplece for a man of his years. Among the works of his mature years are statues of Lord Macaulay, Lord Eacon, and William III.: busts of Tennyson, Carlyle, Gladstone, Cobden, and Prof. Huxley: "Flaine With the Shield of Sir Launcelot." Ophelia." 'In Memoriam," and "Lady Godiya Unrobing," In 1872 he was nominated Royal Academician. He wrote several poems of merit.

Geo. R. Howell of the banking firm of Decker. Howell & Co., 44 Broadway, died at his residence, 52 East Fifty-fifth street, atti:30 o'clock last evening. He had been suffering from cirrhosis of the liver for many months, and for the last five weeks had been confined to his bed. He leaves a wife and two children. Mr. Howell was 43 years old. He grew up in an atmosphere of banks and banking, and for the last fifteen years had been a prominent figure in Wall street. In November, 1830, when the Baring troubles had unsettled Wall street. Decker, Howell & Co. suspended payment. They had been carrying a large amount of Villard stocks, and the sudden decline in these was the direct cause of their failure. Early in January, 1831, the firm renewed business, having paid all claims in full.

James R. Sayre died at his home in Newark

James R. Sayre died at his home in Newark early yesterday morning, aged 493; years. He had been sick for a fortnight with a cold which developed into pneumonia. Mr. Sayre was born in Rahway in 1763, and after learning the mason's trade went into business in this city, and sixty years ago moved to Newark, where he established an immense business in supplying masons and builders' materials, having lime klins and brickyards of his own and controlling a large trade throughout the State. He retired in 1844, Mr. Sayre was married three times, and a wife and four children survive him. He was Alderman from the First ward in 1838, and this was the only political office he ever held.

Patrick Kerrigan, the night gate keeper at James R. Sayre died at his home in Newark

The Transcontinental Association. St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7 .- The Chicago, Rock sland and Pacific Railroad has given formal notice of withdrawal from the Transcontinental Association at headquarters here. The notice applies to both the freight and passennotice applies to both the freight and passenger departments, and will take effect at the close of the year. The Southern Pacific and the Denver and Rio Grande and the Missouri Pacific now appear to be the only lines left in the association. The prolonged existence of the association will depend upon the action of the advisory board of the Western Traffic Association at its meeting in New York next Tuesday. If the parent association is reorganized, there will be a fresh deal all around for the auxiliary associations. The southwestern railway and steamship rate committee will meet in St. Louis on Monday next to consider raises on Texas traffic, but there will be no attempt to reorganize the association until the close of the year.
